Message from the Guest Editors

The guest editors invite researchers from academia, but also decision-makers from industry and policy-makers from governmental organizations, to submit theoretical and applied research papers. This call is deliberately kept broad in order to address a wide range of topics and methods. However, authors are highly encouraged to choose a clear focus, e.g. on a specific topic or a particular application context, in their submitted manuscripts rather than handing in general studies. Suitable topics include but are not limited to the following:

- Sustainability in supply networks and consumer markets in presence of risk and uncertainty.
- Measuring and managing sustainability performance in global supply chains and demand regions.
- Best practices and capabilities for sustainable supply and consumption.
- Sustainability from the perspective of suppliers, customers and consumers.
- Sustainable service operations.
- Sustainability of supply and consumption in specific application contexts or industry sectors.
