Message from the Guest Editors

Technology is impacting education today and is expected to do so in the future. We encourage researchers from different countries to share their insights and research findings on integrating technology into education for sustainable development. In this Special Issue, original research articles and reviews are welcome. Research areas may include (but not limited to) the following:

- (1) The impact of students' digital competencies on outcomes of various forms of technology-enhanced learning;
- (2) The applications and integration of technologies (e.g., social media, gamification, metaverse, augmented and virtual reality, and mobile apps) in the process of learning and teaching;
- (3) Equity and inclusion concerns of integration of technologies in learning and teaching.
- (4) Teachers' digital competences and readiness to integrate technologies in teaching;
- (5) Applications and integration of learning technologies to develop 21st century skills (e.g., critical thinking, collaboration, and problem-solving);

We look forward to receiving your contributions.
