Message from the Guest Editors

The key question is: What insights can research provide in this context? Accordingly, this Special Issue will consider submissions of research papers involving, but not limiting to:

1. Food innovations for sustainability and health;
2. Sustainable food supply chain technologies and/or management;
3. The future of food and climate change: innovative green technology in food processing and packaging systems;
4. Farm-to-fork food quality and safety: issues, challenges and systemic approaches.

We invite submissions by scholars from all academic disciplines to shed light on these broad research areas.

Deadline for manuscript
submissions:

28 February 2022

an Open Access Journal by MDPI
