«Sustainable development is development that meets the needs of the present without compromising the ability of future generations to meet their own needs» (Brundtland Commission, see Wikipedia, http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Sustainable\_Development)

Deadline for manuscript
submissions:
closed (30 October 2009)

Achieving sustainable development usually requires a multidisciplinary approach in which technical, environmental, economic, societal and cultural issues are addressed. Research is needed to guide the development of appropriate sustainability measures, strategies and policy.

We invite you to contribute to this special issue by submitting comprehensive review or research articles.

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

I encourage you to contribute a research or comprehensive review article for consideration for publication in Sustainability, an international Open Access journal which provides an advanced forum for research findings in areas related to sustainability and sustainable development. The journal publishes original research articles, reviews, conference proceedings (peer-reviewed full articles) and communications. I am confident you will find the journal contributes to enhancing understanding of sustainability and fostering initiatives and applications of sustainability-based measures and activities.
