Message from the Guest Editor

This Special Issue of Sustainability seeks papers that can address the existing challenges of the different interpretations of the net zero energy concept in buildings and their possible solutions. Researchers with a more holistic view of the effect of new strategies in building construction and operations in their study are highly encouraged to submit their research articles to this special issue. Topics may include but are not limited to sustainability aspects of building industry innovations, sustainable construction management, social and behavioral aspects of NZEBs, life cycle assessment of innovations in building industry, and big data analytics and machine learning to improve building energy efficiency.

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

I encourage you to contribute a research or comprehensive review article for consideration for publication in Sustainability, an international Open Access journal which provides an advanced forum for research findings in areas related to sustainability and sustainable development. The journal publishes original research articles, reviews, conference proceedings (peer-reviewed full articles) and communications. I am confident you will find the journal contributes to enhancing understanding of sustainability and fostering initiatives and applications of sustainability-based measures and activities.
