Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue will consist of articles that analyze how to make smart cities work in this new era of Smart Cities 3.0, focusing on enabling technologies that can support resilient solutions fostering sustainable mobility and for smart, sustainable future cities.

This topic will be of interest to scholars who deal with smart and sustainable cities, transformational cities, urban planning management, as well as innovative and sustainable transport planning and management and applied technologies, but also technologies as tools for tackling in an efficient and effective manner environmental, economic, and social problems, serving citizen needs, and measuring and enhancing the effectiveness of urban governance and policymaking in this new era of Smart Cities 3.0.
