Message from the Guest Editors

Social entrepreneurship (SE) is not only a business phenomenon whereby firms use commercial means to achieve social objectives (Battilana & Lee, 2014; Saebi et al., 2019), but also a public- and private-value phenomenon of individuals mobilizing private resources to produce a public good/service that simultaneously addresses sustainability issues and achieves personal goals (Chandra, Lee, & Tjiptono, 2021). Despite some initial studies that indicated the link between social entrepreneurship and sustainability (Bansal, et al., 2019; Gupta, et al., 2020; Saebi et al., 2019; Zhang & Swanson, 2014), little is known about the roles, motives, orientations, values, processes, and outcomes of social entrepreneurship as a tool to achieve sustainability and sustainable development. This Special Issue welcomes original high-quality papers that offer quantitative and qualitative empirical papers as well as theoretical and conceptual work that will discuss relevant aspects of SE and sustainable business

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

I encourage you to contribute a research or comprehensive review article for consideration for publication in Sustainability, an international Open Access journal which provides an advanced forum for research findings in areas related to sustainability and sustainable development. The journal publishes original research articles, reviews, conference proceedings (peer-reviewed full articles) and communications. I am confident you will find the journal contributes to enhancing understanding of sustainability and fostering initiatives and applications of sustainability-based measures and activities.
