Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

I have the honor to act as Guest Editor for this very important Special Issue “Sustainable Fashion and Textile Recycling”. It should guide and inspire the reader towards a necessary paradigm shift concerning the sustainable production and use of textiles. Today, roughly three quarters of the climate impact from the total lifetime of apparel (production, use, and end-of-life) comes from the production line alone. Though it should be highlighted that production alone should not carry the blame for these numbers. They are rather the result of our actions and choices as designers, material developers, producers, retailers, users, and consumers, and are related to how we manage circularity. The papers selected for this Special Issue will contribute to find a sustainable route forward for fashion, without overconsuming the resources of the planet.

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

I encourage you to contribute a research or comprehensive review article for consideration for publication in Sustainability, an international Open Access journal which provides an advanced forum for research findings in areas related to sustainability and sustainable development. The journal publishes original research articles, reviews, conference proceedings (peer-reviewed full articles) and communications. I am confident you will find the journal contributes to enhancing understanding of sustainability and fostering initiatives and applications of sustainability-based measures and activities.
