

Special Issue

Performance Management and Sustainability in Organizations

Message from the Guest Editor

In this Special Issue, original research articles and reviews are welcome. Research areas may include (but are not limited to) the following:

- Developing criteria for sustainability-related work behaviours and evaluation standards.
- Training, sources of information, or reactions to performance management for sustainability.
- Evaluation of applications of performance management to motivate individual, team, and organizational behaviour.
- Implementing performance feedback systems to guide workplace sustainability behaviours.
- The impact of contextual factors such as industry, legislation, geographic location, employee demographics on the management of sustainability performance.
- Reactions and social distortion relating to appraising for sustainability goals.
- Applications in HR for pay and promotions as related to employee sustainability performance.

I look forward to receiving your contributions.
