Advances in Sustainability, Life-Cycle Assessment, and Circularity of Construction Materials

Message from the Guest Editor

This Special Issue advances the sustainability and life cycle assessment (LCA) of construction materials, including mineral binders, metals, timber, polymers, hybrids, and related components, assemblies, and building-stock analyses where material choices drive impacts. We emphasize decision-grade LCA that informs design, procurement, and policy, aligned with ISO 14040/14044, ISO 21930, EN 15804, and EN 15978, while explicitly integrating objectives beyond carbon emissions (resource use, toxicity, water, durability, and circularity). Conceptually adjacent studies that enhance decision relevance in the built environment are also welcome.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

I encourage you to contribute a research or comprehensive review article for consideration for publication in Sustainability, an international open access journal which provides an advanced forum for research findings in areas related to sustainability and sustainable development. The journal publishes original research articles, reviews, conference proceedings (peer reviewed full articles) and communications. I am confident you will find the journal contributes to enhancing understanding of sustainability and fostering initiatives and applications of sustainability-based measures and activities.
