Sustainable Air Transport Management and Sustainable Mobility

Message from the Guest Editor

Sustainable air transport management and sustainable mobility are essential in terms of addressing the environmental and efficiency challenges in the air transportation industry. Similarly, sustainable mobility focuses on creating transportation systems that are environmentally friendly and socially equitable. Research in these areas is crucial for reducing carbon footprints, improving operational efficiency, and promoting economic and social well-being. The aim of this Special Issue is to showcase recent advancements and innovative solutions in sustainable air transport management and sustainable mobility and this focus aligns with the journal's scope of publishing research on sustainability and technological advancements in transportation. This Special Issue will contribute valuable insights and practical solutions to current challenges in the field. We invite original research articles and critical reviews on topics related, but not limited, to:

- Technological innovations;
- Operational efficiency;
- Sustainable infrastructure:
- Sustainable mobility;
- Smart technology in the aviation sector.
