

Special Issue

Energy System Optimisation and Integration and the Sustainable Use of Renewable Energy

Message from the Guest Editors

The transition to sustainable energy systems is imperative for addressing climate change, improving energy security, and enhancing efficiency, and this Special Issue will highlight cutting-edge research, novel methodologies, and technological advancements in optimising energy systems, integrating renewable energy, and promoting sustainable energy practices. Additionally, this Special Issue of Sustainability aims to provide a comprehensive platform for researchers, policymakers, and industry professionals to share insights and solutions that drive the future of energy systems. Researchers and professionals are invited to submit original research articles, case studies, and review papers covering theoretical and practical aspects of energy system optimisation, renewable energy integration, and sustainability. Accepted papers will contribute to a growing body of knowledge and inform future research, policy, and practice.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

I encourage you to contribute a research or comprehensive review article for consideration for publication in Sustainability, an international Open Access journal which provides an advanced forum for research findings in areas related to sustainability and sustainable development. Sustainability publishes original research articles, review articles and communications. I am confident you will find the journal contributes to enhancing understanding of sustainability and fostering initiatives and applications of sustainability-based measures and activities.
