

Special Issue

Fostering Sustainable Education and Enhancing Student Creativity Through Innovative Educational Technologies

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue explores the transformative impact of Innovative Educational Technologies on enhancing learner experiences, improving learning outcomes, and fostering continuous, self-directed lifelong learning. We seek contributions investigating how advanced educational technologies can be applied across various contexts: K-12, higher education, adult learning, and corporate training and development. By examining these technologies, we aim to understand their role in creating more personalized, engaging, and efficient learning environments that not only improve immediate educational results but also cultivate the skills and motivation necessary for lifelong learning and professional growth.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

I encourage you to contribute a research or comprehensive review article for consideration for publication in Sustainability, an international open access journal which provides an advanced forum for research findings in areas related to sustainability and sustainable development. The journal publishes original research articles, reviews, conference proceedings (peer reviewed full articles) and communications. I am confident you will find the journal contributes to enhancing understanding of sustainability and fostering initiatives and applications of sustainability-based measures and activities.
