

Special Issue

Sustainable Production & Operations Management—2nd Edition

Message from the Guest Editors

The goal of this Special Issue is to showcase theoretical and practical contributions regarding sustainable production and sustainable operations management from a variety of industries, especially in the wake of an accelerating transformation towards a carbon-neutral economy and an advanced digital society.

The focus of this anthology is on the manufacturing industry, which is undergoing complex transformations in line with the Industry 5.0 approach and has to answer to difficult challenges related not only to sustainability and digitalization but also to supply chain disruptions, resource depletion, and engineering personnel shortages.

The editors encourage the submission of interdisciplinary and multidisciplinary approaches that can bring new insights into the field, stimulating and reinforcing competitiveness in harmony with the natural environment and the social landscape, which need protection and nurturing.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

I encourage you to contribute a research or comprehensive review article for consideration for publication in Sustainability, an international open access journal which provides an advanced forum for research findings in areas related to sustainability and sustainable development. The journal publishes original research articles, reviews, conference proceedings (peer reviewed full articles) and communications. I am confident you will find the journal contributes to enhancing understanding of sustainability and fostering initiatives and applications of sustainability-based measures and activities.
