Environmental Performance and Efficiency Evaluation of Enterprises

Message from the Guest Editors

In today's rapidly evolving economic landscape, the integration of sustainability into business practices is more crucial than ever, and the importance of evaluating and improving the environmental performance and efficiency of enterprises cannot be overstated.

By addressing the multifaceted challenges and opportunities involved in improving environmental performance, papers in this Special Issue may focus on a variety of topics, with particular emphasis on the following:

- Economic strategies for climate action;
- Sustainable urban development and its economic impacts;
- Circular economy and resource efficiency;
- Agricultural economics and sustainable practices;
- Environmental economics and biodiversity conservation;
- Renewable energy economics;
- Sustainable industrial practices and innovation;
- Water and waste economics and sustainable management;
- Health economics and environmental health;
- Education for sustainable economic growth;
- Strategic management and environmental performance;
- Marketing environment audit.
