

Special Issue

Accounting, Corporate Policies and Sustainability

Message from the Guest Editors

Sustainability is increasingly becoming a necessity for corporations due to changing perspectives around the world. Corporate sustainability, as a strategic approach that aims to create stakeholder value, is critical for creating goodwill for businesses, enhancing opportunities and managing the risks that occur due to economic, social and environmental developments. This Special Issue calls for research covering a wide range of aspects related to accounting, corporate policies and/or their impacts on corporate sustainability.

In this Special Issue, original research articles and reviews are welcome. Research areas may include (but not limited to) the following:

- Accounting disclosures and sustainability;
- ESG reporting and corporate governance;
- Voluntary versus mandatory non-financial reporting;
- Regulations, public policies and non-financial reporting;
- Socially responsible investments;
- Corporate policies and corporate sustainability;
- Climate change and corporate policies;
- The role of technology in corporate sustainability;
- Green finance and digital finance;
- Microfinance and sustainability.

We look forward to receiving your contributions.
