

Special Issue

Technologies and Humanities for Sustainability Research

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue is aimed at bringing together contributions that will focus on the potential interactions between humanities, sciences, and technologies to address contemporary complex challenges within a multidisciplinary framework. Case studies and experiments with detailed descriptions of chosen methodologies are particularly welcomed. This converges with the aims of the journal Sustainability, namely the general challenges related to sustainability. In this Special Issue, original research articles and reviews are welcome. Authors are invited to reflect on the UNESCO document on sustainability science and make contributions on the general theme, also considering site-based case-studies in the following topics:

- Integration of Technologies and Humanities for Resources Management and Sustainability
- Smart approaches
- Humanities and sciences approaches
- Technology, restoration, and arts enhancement
- Nature-based approaches

We look forward to receiving your contributions.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

I encourage you to contribute a research or comprehensive review article for consideration for publication in Sustainability, an international Open Access journal which provides an advanced forum for research findings in areas related to sustainability and sustainable development. Sustainability publishes original research articles, review articles and communications. I am confident you will find the journal contributes to enhancing understanding of sustainability and fostering initiatives and applications of sustainability-based measures and activities.
