

Special Issue

Sustainable Clothing Consumption: Circular Use of Apparel

Message from the Guest Editor

This thematic Issue encourages research related to clothing use phase and sustainable consumption, including:

- Apparel longevity and active use
- Circular economy and collaborative clothing
- consumption
- Clothing design for sustainable behaviour
- Environmental impact of use phase
- Laundry and maintenance
- Policy measures for sustainable consumption
- Repair, repurposing, and redesign
- Reuse and disposal

Different methodological approaches are welcome, including qualitative and quantitative studies, case studies, experiments, as well as articles that aim to develop theoretical approaches. Articles focusing on production are outside the scope of this Issue.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

I encourage you to contribute a research or comprehensive review article for consideration for publication in Sustainability, an international Open Access journal which provides an advanced forum for research findings in areas related to sustainability and sustainable development. Sustainability publishes original research articles, review articles and communications. I am confident you will find the journal contributes to enhancing understanding of sustainability and fostering initiatives and applications of sustainability-based measures and activities.
