

Special Issue

Computational Intelligence for Sustainability

Message from the Guest Editors

This special issue aims to offer a systematic overview of this emerging research field and provide innovative interdisciplinary approaches. It will provide a leading forum for disseminating the latest results of studies, development, and applications of sustainability research with a strong involvement of computer intelligence. Scope:

Intelligent sustainable product design
Intelligent sustainable production system modeling, simulation and optimization
Sustainability-oriented decision support systems
Sustainability-oriented supply chain optimization
Environmental and sustainability assessment
Circular economy – computational models
Sustainable consumption – computational models
Interactions between health and environment and others, all as related to the application of computer intelligence to sustainability research.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

I encourage you to contribute a research or comprehensive review article for consideration for publication in Sustainability, an international Open Access journal which provides an advanced forum for research findings in areas related to sustainability and sustainable development. Sustainability publishes original research articles, review articles and communications. I am confident you will find the journal contributes to enhancing understanding of sustainability and fostering initiatives and applications of sustainability-based measures and activities.
