Sustainability with Biofuel Production: Opportunities and Challenges

Message from the Guest Editor

This Special Issue aims to publish high-quality research and review articles addressing recent advances in biofuels. Research involving recent developments, and novel and emerging technologies in this field are highly encouraged. Experimental and numerical studies on the development of new biorefinery for biofuel processes, technologies and applications are welcomed. In addition, studies on the impact of biofuel combustion emissions on climate change and air pollution are particularly encouraged. Potential topics include but are not limited to the following: advanced biofuels: biofuel blends; biofuel combustion emissions; engine performance; lignocellulosic feedstock utilisation; integrated thermo/biochemical conversion of biomass; biodiesel; bioethanol; biopolymers; integrated biorefinery; intensified bioprocessing; energy conservation; energy efficiency; socio-economic and political impacts; life cycle assessment (LCA); energy systems; supply chains; and techno-economic analysis (TEA).
