Special Issue

The Intersection of Sustainability and Food Science Research

Message from the Guest Editors

The purpose of this Special Issue is to bring together cutting-edge research that examines sustainable technologies, resource-efficient practices, and circular economy principles in food production, processing, and consumption. We invite authors to submit original contributions that discuss the intersection of food science and sustainability, including but not limited to sustainable agricultural practices, food waste reduction/valorization, eco-efficient food systems, and sustainable supply chains.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

I encourage you to contribute a research or comprehensive review article for consideration for publication in Sustainability, an international open access journal which provides an advanced forum for research findings in areas related to sustainability and sustainable development. The journal publishes original research articles, reviews, conference proceedings (peer reviewed full articles) and communications. I am confident you will find the journal contributes to enhancing understanding of sustainability and fostering initiatives and applications of sustainability-based measures and activities.
