

Special Issue

Energy Transition for Climate-Inclusive Growth and Sustainable Environments

Message from the Guest Editors

For a paradigm shift toward sustainability to take place, it is necessary to address numerous issues at the same time. This Special Issue provides an opportunity to understand the theoretical and empirical mechanisms explaining the links between energy transition, environmental sustainability, and climate-inclusive growth.

In this Special Issue, original research articles and reviews are welcome. Research themes may include (but are not limited to) the following:

- Conceptualizing energy transition pathways;
- Interlinking energy transition and climate-inclusive growth;
- Environmental sustainability-economic growth trade-offs;
- Climate inclusivity and net-zero emissions agenda;
- Renewable and energy-efficient solutions for low-carbon economies;
- Technological advancement and emissions mitigation strategies;
- Energy rebound effect and environmental sustainability;
- Climate-inclusive business models and sustainability;
- Policies and incentive structure driving climate-inclusive growth.

We look forward to receiving your contributions.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

I encourage you to contribute a research or comprehensive review article for consideration for publication in Sustainability, an international open access journal which provides an advanced forum for research findings in areas related to sustainability and sustainable development. The journal publishes original research articles, reviews, conference proceedings (peer reviewed full articles) and communications. I am confident you will find the journal contributes to enhancing understanding of sustainability and fostering initiatives and applications of sustainability-based measures and activities.
