Approach and Policy in Higher Education for Sustainability

Message from the Guest Editor

The aim of this SI is to contribute to sustainable policy frameworks with regard to the higher education sector that develop an obligatory atmosphere, so that institutions of higher education adhere to the agendas of sustainable science and innovation and also ensure a decent expansion of science, innovation and modernization with multi-disciplinary tolerance and coordination. Without rigidly limiting authors to the scopes listed below, the SI collection should mainly focus on:

- Sustainable innovation, science and culture in higher education;
- Campus sustainability and the role of green campus;
- Policy and legislative framework for sustainable innovation, science and culture;
- Sustainability challenges experienced within different types of universities;
- Impact of globalization in higher education on the sustainability crisis;
- Commodification in higher education and research and its impact on sustainability crisis;
- Global phenomena in higher education vs. local reality in sustainability crisis.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

I encourage you to contribute a research or comprehensive review article for consideration for publication in Sustainability, an international open access journal which provides an advanced forum for research findings in areas related to sustainability and sustainable development. The journal publishes original research articles, reviews, conference proceedings (peer reviewed full articles) and communications. I am confident you will find the journal contributes to enhancing understanding of sustainability and fostering initiatives and applications of sustainability-based measures and activities.
