

Special Issue

Hydrogen Economy: Challenges and Opportunities

Message from the Guest Editors

The Special Issue aims to collect original research and review articles from authors working on the technological development of hydrogen energy systems. Various topics will be considered, including, but not limited to:

- Sustainable and low-carbon hydrogen production from water, biomass, natural gas, coal or other sources
- Hydrogen storage technologies, including the material-level, component-level and system-level
- Hydrogen transport solutions, such as mobilised, long-distance transport, marine, underground pipeline
- Integrated hydrogen energy systems for heating, cooling and electricity generation
- Hydrogen gas network for heating and cooling
- Hydrogen refuelling stations
- Fuel cells technologies for combined heat and power
- Hydrogen internal combustion engine or hydrogen turbine
- Hydrogen as a feedstock for industry and chemicals
- Hydrogen carriers, such as NH₃, CH₄ and alcohols

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

I encourage you to contribute a research or comprehensive review article for consideration for publication in Sustainability, an international Open Access journal which provides an advanced forum for research findings in areas related to sustainability and sustainable development. Sustainability publishes original research articles, review articles and communications. I am confident you will find the journal contributes to enhancing understanding of sustainability and fostering initiatives and applications of sustainability-based measures and activities.

Editor-in-Chief
