Innovative and Smart Renewable Energy Technologies for Developing Low-Carbon and Sustainable Societies

Message from the Guest Editor

This Special Issue focuses on addressing critical knowledge gaps related to innovative, smart renewable energy technologies for the development of low-carbon and sustainable societies. It aims at showcasing cutting-edge research that advances the adoption of these technologies, promoting environmental quality and resilience in societies.

- clean and renewable energy
- energy sources and production
- energy conversion and storage
- energy efficiency
- energy conservation and recovery
- energy management and optimization
- smart, hybrid energy systems
- energy equity, security, and access
- energy and buildings
- climate change and global warming
- sustainable societies
- sustainability and decarbonization

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

I encourage you to contribute a research or comprehensive review article for consideration for publication in Sustainability, an international open access journal which provides an advanced forum for research findings in areas related to sustainability and sustainable development. The journal publishes original research articles, reviews, conference proceedings (peer reviewed full articles) and communications. I am confident you will find the journal contributes to enhancing understanding of sustainability and fostering initiatives and applications of sustainability-based measures and activities.
