Life Cycle Assessment of Agri-Food Products

Message from the Guest Editor

This Special Issue welcomes:

- Applied small-scale LCA studies of agri-food systems; In particular, studies applying life cycle thinking for new or emerging production systems;
- Applications of novel indicators, new methods, and tools for expanding the scope of existing sustainability evaluations of food products;
- New methodological insights regarding the influence of assumptions and LCA modeling approaches on results;
- Evaluations of the role of uncertainty in agri-food results;
- Applications of innovative approaches to improve LCA modelling (e.g., using process-based models in the construction of inventories or impact assessment models; remote sensing for data collection in LCA studies; applications of machine learning in agri-food LCA);
- Reviews of agri-food LCA studies;
- Other topics that fit within the general scope of agri-food LCA.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

I encourage you to contribute a research or comprehensive review article for consideration for publication in Sustainability, an international Open Access journal which provides an advanced forum for research findings in areas related to sustainability and sustainable development. Sustainability publishes original research articles, review articles and communications. I am confident you will find the journal contributes to enhancing understanding of sustainability and fostering initiatives and applications of sustainability-based measures and activities.
