

Special Issue

Emerging Trends in Waste Management and Sustainable Practices

Message from the Guest Editor

Waste management and sustainable practices are critical components of contemporary environmental science. This Special Issue focuses on the latest advancements and innovative approaches in this vital field. Recent advancements include new technologies for waste treatment, innovative recycling processes, and the implementation of circular economy principles.

These innovations not only help in reducing the environmental footprint but also contribute to economic development by creating green jobs and promoting sustainable industries. In this Special Issue, original research articles and reviews are welcome. Research areas may include (but are not limited to) the following:

- Innovative waste treatment technologies;
- Recycling and resource recovery;
- Circular economy and zero waste strategies;
- Policy and regulation;
- Behavioral and societal aspects;
- Life cycle assessment and environmental impact;
- Case studies and best practices.

I look forward to receiving your contributions.
