

Special Issue

Urban Resilience and Sustainable Construction Under Disaster Risk

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue aims to gather contributions focused on innovative approaches and methods to mitigate the risk of repetitive damage from earthquakes, floods, hurricanes, or other natural hazards to buildings and critical infrastructures in the face of future disasters. This aligns with the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development, which seeks to endorse resilient and sustainable strategies for prevention, mitigation, and adaptation to disaster risks.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

I encourage you to contribute a research or comprehensive review article for consideration for publication in Sustainability, an international open access journal which provides an advanced forum for research findings in areas related to sustainability and sustainable development. The journal publishes original research articles, reviews, conference proceedings (peer reviewed full articles) and communications. I am confident you will find the journal contributes to enhancing understanding of sustainability and fostering initiatives and applications of sustainability-based measures and activities.
