New Sustainable Materials for Photocatalysis

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue on “New Sustainable Materials for Photocatalysis” aims to collect and present all breakthrough research on the synthesis and use of photocatalysts from sustainable materials. The scope of this Special Issue covers but is not limited to the following topics:

- Synthesis of new sustainable materials for photocatalysis;
- Photocatalytic destruction of emerging pollutants from water and wastewater;
- Photocatalytic oxidation of micropollutants; reaction pathway, byproducts, end products, etc.;
- Advantages of newly synthesized photocatalysts over traditional nanocatalysts;
- Use of photocatalytic oxidation with other advanced oxidation processes (AOPs);
- Photolytic and photocatalytic treatment technologies for wastewater, freshwater, and groundwater.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

I encourage you to contribute a research or comprehensive review article for consideration for publication in Sustainability, an international Open Access journal which provides an advanced forum for research findings in areas related to sustainability and sustainable development. Sustainability publishes original research articles, review articles and communications. I am confident you will find the journal contributes to enhancing understanding of sustainability and fostering initiatives and applications of sustainability-based measures and activities.

Author Benefits

Open Access:

free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE and SSCI (Web of Science), GEOBASE, GeoRef, Inspec, RePEc, CAPIus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q2 (Environmental Studies) / CiteScore - Q1
(Geography, Planning and Development)
