Special Issue

Entrepreneurship, Technology Revolution and Sustainability

Message from the Guest Editor

We invite papers for the Special Issue: "
Entrepreneurship, Technology Revolution and Sustainability". Papers can be conceptual, theoretical, or empirical, and can include literature reviews and meta analyses. Submissions are encouraged from a variety of disciplines. Interdisciplinary perspectives and multilevel explorations are also well suited to the aims of the Special Issue. Potential topics may include (but are not limited to) the following:

- Technological and entrepreneurial predictors of sustainability;
- Interlinkages/synergies between humans, technology and sustainability;
- Challenges/opportunities at the nexus of technology, entrepreneurship and sustainability;
- Shaping technology trajectories for sustainable outcomes;
- Ethical consequences of technological revolutions for sustainability;
- Entrepreneurialism and environmental activism;
- Unintended consequences of technological revolutions:
- Potential pitfalls;
- Stakeholder involvement:
- Sustainable entrepreneurship;
- Transitions to new sustainability regimes;
- Sustainable technology:
- Rural-urban contexts; Regulatory policies.

We look forward to receiving your contributions.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

I encourage you to contribute a research or comprehensive review article for consideration for publication in Sustainability, an international open access journal which provides an advanced forum for research findings in areas related to sustainability and sustainable development. The journal publishes original research articles, reviews, conference proceedings (peer reviewed full articles) and communications. I am confident you will find the journal contributes to enhancing understanding of sustainability and fostering initiatives and applications of sustainability-based measures and activities.
