

Special Issue

Renewables and Sustainable Economic Growth

Message from the Guest Editors

Energy is one of the most crucial factors in achieving sustainable economic growth. However, global economy is in jeopardy due to factors such as increased energy demand caused by an increasing global population and industrialization. The continued reliance on traditional energy resources to meet the rising energy demand would only expedite environmental deterioration. Low-carbon solutions are needed. Renewable energy is seen as a clean source of energy that contributes to environmental protection. This Special Issue aims to fully comprehend the interactions between renewables and sustainable economic development. Topics include but are not limited to:

- Renewable energy and sustainable growth;
- Sustainable economy;
- Green growth;
- Sustainability and clean energy exploration and consumption;
- Green energy and green finance;
- Energy efficiency, climate change, and sustainable development;
- Renewable energy systems for smart cities;
- Renewable energy sources and technologies;
- Technologies for carbon neutrality;
- Energy economics and markets;
- Economy transition;
- Energy policy;
- Renewable energy evolution and transition.
