Digital Transformation and Economic Development: Strategies for Sustainable Industrial Competitiveness

Message from the Guest Editor

Sustainability is excited to announce a call for submissions for a Special Issue centered on "Digital Transformation and Economic Development: Strategies for Sustainable Industrial Competitiveness". This Special Issue is focused on examining the link between digital transformation and economic development, particularly in the context of promoting sustainable industrial competitiveness practices. Therefore, we welcome submissions that thoroughly examine digital transformation, how it is used, and the progress that supports economic growth within industries. Topics of interest for this Special Issue include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Digital transformation and economic growth;
- Digital transformation and sustainable practices for industries;
- Artificial intelligence, neural network, and industrial competitiveness;
- Digital transformation, digital economy, and sustainability;
- Digital transformation, businesses, supply chain, marketing, and economic growth;
- Digital transformation, financial institutions, sustainable strategic plans, and industrial competitiveness.

I look forward to receiving your contributions.
