

Special Issue

Sustainability in Mechanical Design and Product Development

Message from the Guest Editors

The aim of this Special issue is to provide a scientific platform for scientists, industrial practitioners, researchers, and academics to exchange ideas and findings related to mechanical engineering design and product development as well as sustainability in product development through the publication of insightful and influential findings. Manuscripts can be in the form of original research articles, systematic reviews and meta-analyses, bibliometric reviews, and communications/letters. Potential research topics include but are not limited to: (i) sustainable energies, (ii) sustainable manufacturing and their system, (iii) sustainable functional materials, (iv) sustainable mechanical–electrical systems, (v) sustainable mechanical designs and products, (vi) sustainable mechanical computation, (vi) advanced industrial physics, (vii) sustainable biology-related mechanical systems, and (vii) other sustainable engineering applications.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

I encourage you to contribute a research or comprehensive review article for consideration for publication in Sustainability, an international Open Access journal which provides an advanced forum for research findings in areas related to sustainability and sustainable development. Sustainability publishes original research articles, review articles and communications. I am confident you will find the journal contributes to enhancing understanding of sustainability and fostering initiatives and applications of sustainability-based measures and activities.

Editor-in-Chief
