

Special Issue

Achieving Sustainable Development Goals in COVID-19 Pandemic Times

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue is oriented toward the publication of research based on achieving the Sustainable Development Goals of the COVID-19 pandemic. It is expected that the articles will employ a qualitative or quantitative approach, conspiring information from institutional or governmental reports, students' and professors' perceptions, consumers' points of view, and various actors of society. The articles are expected to address the different strategies and perspectives for achieving the SDGs. Authors are invited to participate in this Special Issue with innovative research that can help policymakers to generate new regulations in the whole arena of sustainability.
