

Special Issue

Using New Technologies to Make Urban Transport Sustainable

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue will deal with technology, policy, and organisational innovations in urban transport and mobility to make urban transport sustainable. It will feature ideas, projects, simulations, and real live demonstration results about urban transport innovations and their impacts in terms of sustainability. It will have an interdisciplinary approach and, unlike specialised journals which address one specific subject, this Special Issue will combine energy, automation, and communication technologies with infrastructural, organisational, and policy issues to cover the full extent of the epic challenge of making urban transport sustainable. Keywords

- sustainability
- urban transport
- vehicle automation
- battery electric vehicles
- transport services
- transport policies

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

I encourage you to contribute a research or comprehensive review article for consideration for publication in Sustainability, an international Open Access journal which provides an advanced forum for research findings in areas related to sustainability and sustainable development. Sustainability publishes original research articles, review articles and communications. I am confident you will find the journal contributes to enhancing understanding of sustainability and fostering initiatives and applications of sustainability-based measures and activities.
