

Special Issue

Sustainable Development of Green Ecological Environment

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue seeks research pertaining to those areas of the environment that offer novel and innovative ways to deal with environmental issues. In addition, the Special Issue welcomes research dealing with greenhouse gases, achieving carbon neutrality and sustainable environmental solutions through green investment, green energy, cleaner production and environmentally friendly technologies. In this Special Issue, original research articles and reviews are welcome. The research areas may include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Sustainable consumption and production;
- Green innovation and environment;
- Information communication technologies and greenhouse gases;
- Emission reduction and globalization;
- Role of health, transport, agriculture, and tourism sectors in ecological footprint;
- New production models for green economies;
- Digital currency, social media, and environmental sustainability;
- Economic growth, fossil fuels and renewable energy;
- Green corporate social responsibility and green management.

We look forward to receiving your contributions.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

I encourage you to contribute a research or comprehensive review article for consideration for publication in Sustainability, an international Open Access journal which provides an advanced forum for research findings in areas related to sustainability and sustainable development. Sustainability publishes original research articles, review articles and communications. I am confident you will find the journal contributes to enhancing understanding of sustainability and fostering initiatives and applications of sustainability-based measures and activities.
