Sustainable Rural Development and Land Use Planning

Message from the Guest Editors

The future of public action policies designed to achieve greater and better rural development and not only at the European level, but also in other rural territories with the same needs, even more so in the current context of clear political and economic uncertainty. We encourage authors to submit contributions in the following priority areas:

- Strategies with which to alleviate the demographic and socioeconomic problems of the rural environment and to contribute to sustainable land use planning.
- New models of sustainable rural development for land use planning.
- Approaches of rural development and their evolution in the world, e.g., European policies and rural development programs and strategies to diversify the rural economies.
- Rural partnerships and their roles in the development and stability of the rural economy and population.
- The past, present, and future of rural development policy in Europe and its influence on other rural areas in the world.
- Transnational cooperation for rural development.
- Gender perspective in rural development policies.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

I encourage you to contribute a research or comprehensive review article for consideration for publication in Sustainability, an international open access journal which provides an advanced forum for research findings in areas related to sustainability and sustainable development. The journal publishes original research articles, reviews, conference proceedings (peer reviewed full articles) and communications. I am confident you will find the journal contributes to enhancing understanding of sustainability and fostering initiatives and applications of sustainability-based measures and activities.
