

Special Issue

Sustainable Forest Technology and Resource Management

Message from the Guest Editor

The primary purpose of this Special Issue is to present the diverse perspectives on sustainable forest management based on the results of contemporary research under the conditions of social, economic, and natural changes in the world. The Special Issue is intended to provide a platform for the exchange of knowledge and views on sustainable forest management. The topics of interest include (but are not limited to) the following:

- Forest management following the implementation of the Green Deal;
- Impact of modern forest management on the forestry and timber industry;
- Methods of forecasting economic changes in forestry;
- Sustainable forest management;
- Impact of climate change on sustainable forest management;
- Impact of macroeconomic and microeconomic changes on forest management;
- Forest management in a closed loop;
- Forest management supporting biodiversity;
- Forest management and agroforestry in modern management.
