

Special Issue

Innovations in Digital Education for Reaching the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs)

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue is dedicated to collecting research that addresses the role of Digital Education in the achievement of the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), highlighting studies that provide scientific rigor, innovation and advances that address new challenges in the creation of a more sustainable world. The aim of this Special Issue is to generate an academic space in which recent advances, both theoretical and applied, can contribute to an improvement in the quality of life of individuals, families, groups and communities throughout their life cycle and in different contexts, promoting social, personal and community well-being.
