Information Systems in Business Innovation: Knowledge Transfer, Dynamic Capability and Sustainability Transition

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue aims to capture the convergence of Information Systems, Innovation Management, and Sustainability Science, which has not yet been comprehensively addressed in the current literature. These six topics provide a solid foundation for both academic and practical contributions, while ensuring the Special Issue stays coherent and comprehensive.

- The Strategic Role of Information Systems (IS) in Business Innovation
- Knowledge Transfer and Digital Collaboration in Innovation Ecosystems
- Information Systems and the Development of Dynamic Capabilities
- Enabling Sustainability Transitions through IS
- Sectoral Applications and Empirical Case Studies
- Governance, Ethics, and Future Outlook in Digital-Sustainable Innovation

We look forward to receiving your contributions.
