

Special Issue

Accessible, Inclusive and Sustainable Tourism: Management and Marketing

Message from the Guest Editor

Sustainability is offering a Special Issue on the topic of accessibility, inclusivity and sustainable tourism: management and marketing. In accordance with the growing importance of these topical areas, we are seeking submissions of the very highest academic quality of either conceptual or empirical research, including primary research and/or secondary data analysis, which contributes to the topics of accessibility, inclusivity, and sustainable tourism with a particular focus on management and marketing of tourism product and services in business-to-business as well as business-to-consumer contexts. We are not accepting commentaries, opinion pieces, or descriptive studies. In line with the journal's guidelines, we will keep the breadth and focus of the topic necessarily broad in order to promote interdisciplinary contributions on those subject areas. Papers selected for this Special Issue are subject to a rigorous peer review process with the aim of dissemination of research results that have management or marketing applications.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

I encourage you to contribute a research or comprehensive review article for consideration for publication in Sustainability, an international open access journal which provides an advanced forum for research findings in areas related to sustainability and sustainable development. The journal publishes original research articles, reviews, conference proceedings (peer reviewed full articles) and communications. I am confident you will find the journal contributes to enhancing understanding of sustainability and fostering initiatives and applications of sustainability-based measures and activities.
