

Special Issue

Active School Concept

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue “Active School Concepts” aims to synthesize current knowledge on opportunities for physical activity in the school environment other than physical education, with an emphasis on including components such as active breaks/recess; active classroom learning; school, modified playground, and classroom design; active and dynamic sitting; active transport to school; active homework; physical activity-related school events; pre-school and after-school clubs and activities; and activity-enhanced physical education. Furthermore, policies and recommendations that may affect these opportunities, as well as barriers to and enablers of the opportunities, will be discussed.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

I encourage you to contribute a research or comprehensive review article for consideration for publication in Sustainability, an international Open Access journal which provides an advanced forum for research findings in areas related to sustainability and sustainable development. Sustainability publishes original research articles, review articles and communications. I am confident you will find the journal contributes to enhancing understanding of sustainability and fostering initiatives and applications of sustainability-based measures and activities.
