

Special Issue

Perspectives on Community Engagement in Energy Transition

Message from the Guest Editor

Welcome to the Special Issue 'Perspectives on Community Engagement in Energy Transition'. The acceptance of local residents is very important in distributing clean energy such as renewable energy, CCUS, next-generation nuclear power generation, electric vehicles, hydrogen energy, and hydrogen vehicles. In order to secure public acceptance, a clean energy project should be promoted with the community. This Special Issue discusses the various ways to promote the deployment of clean energy. I look forward to receiving many papers.
