Corporate Governance, Social Responsibility, Innovation, and Sustainable Business Development Goals

Message from the Guest Editors

Please, don't miss the chance to submit your contributions for the special issue in Sustainability on "Corporate Governance, Social Responsibility, Innovation, and Sustainable Business Development Goals". This Special Issue of Sustainability will comprise a collection of empirical and theoretical studies covering a wide range of themes related to corporate governance, CSR, innovation, and sustainable business development goals. In particular, we encourage submissions that address issues related (but not limited) to the following main topics:

- Corporate governance and sustainable business management;
- Corporate socially responsible investments and SDGs;
- ESG/CSR and economic performance and firm value;
- Companies' contribution to SDGs and the current status of corporate practices.
- The managerial incentives and CSR including opportunistic CSR
- The role of formal and informal institutions in shaping SDGs.
- The role of regulations and enforcement in shaping the future of SDGs
- ESG/CSR practices, incentives, and benefits in Emerging and developed markets.
- The capital market reactions to SDGs.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

I encourage you to contribute a research or comprehensive review article for consideration for publication in Sustainability, an international Open Access journal which provides an advanced forum for research findings in areas related to sustainability and sustainable development. Sustainability publishes original research articles, review articles and communications. I am confident you will find the journal contributes to enhancing understanding of sustainability and fostering initiatives and applications of sustainability-based measures and activities.
