

Special Issue

Creation of a Healthcare Environment at a Higher Educational Institution

Message from the Guest Editors

The Special Issue will feature research papers, reviews of research studies, technical reports, and conceptual pieces. The aim of the Special Issue is to conceptualize and bring attention to the creation of healthcare environment in an institution of higher education, which is a process that requires a clear awareness by all subjects of the educational process concerning the importance of a responsible attitude towards their own health. Prospects for further research involve further study of the theory and practice of a future teacher's personality development in the healthcare environment of an institution of higher education.
