Going Net Zero—Case Studies of How Firms Are Managing the Challenge of Ambitious Emissions Reduction Aspirations

Message from the Guest Editors

We invite you to submit high-quality research manuscripts for this Special Issue of Sustainability on “Going Net Zero: Case Studies Analysing Firms’ Strategies for Managing the Challenge of Emissions Reduction Aspirations”. There are increasing drivers for organisations to pursue emissions reduction measures and eventually reach Net Zero emissions. In the aftermath of COP26 in Glasgow, and after numerous declarations of corporate emissions reductions, a rigorous assessment of these efforts is both timely and necessary. Topics of interest for this Special Issue include:

- Corporate Net Zero Strategies and Frameworks;
- Net Zero Methodologies;
- Corporate Carbon Abatement Strategies;
- Carbon Trading Innovation;
- “Corporate Carbon” Lessons Learned and Best Practices;
- Policy Analysis for Net Zero;
- Net Zero Innovation, etc.

Please join me in this key climate mitigation effort.
