

Special Issue

Family Business Model and Practices of Sustainability

Message from the Guest Editor

The main objective of this Special Issue is to generate a conceptual theoretical framework to serve as a reference for the generation of new management models for family businesses within the framework of sustainability and the circular economy. Moreover, we wish to analyze the new business models that are adopted by family businesses and are related to sustainability. Family businesses must play a very active role in the fight against climate change and in this sense from the world of academia we must transfer research transfer results to the owners and managers of this important business sector. For this reason, this issue is to become a reference point for researchers to put concepts, methodologies and research results into value and to serve as a reference for the owners and managers of family businesses. In short, this issue can provide important data and good practices within the theme of sustainability and it could to be implemented on the reality of this type of companies.
