Open Science for Enhanced Global Agriculture

Message from the Guest Editor

It is our great pleasure to invite you to the II AGRIBASE Conference, <https://www.agri-base.eu/agri-base-conference/>, and to contribute to the special issue. “Open science for enhanced global agriculture” is intended to receive all the contributions of applied science to agriculture and agri-food systems, including case-studies and best-practices examples to contribute to the scientific discussion on the topic of open innovation, modern agriculture, globalization of knowledge and sustainability. We encourage researchers and practitioners to submit original research articles, case studies, reviews, critical perspectives, and viewpoint articles on topics including, but not limited to, the following:

- The process of open innovation in agri-food system;
- Stakeholder involvement innovation and sustainability assessment;
- Case studies and best-practices presentation;
- Contribution and debates about open agriculture, sustainability and globalization;
- Lessons learned from about three decades of research and practice;
- Integration of concepts.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

I encourage you to contribute a research or comprehensive review article for consideration for publication in Sustainability, an international open access journal which provides an advanced forum for research findings in areas related to sustainability and sustainable development. The journal publishes original research articles, reviews, conference proceedings (peer reviewed full articles) and communications. I am confident you will find the journal contributes to enhancing understanding of sustainability and fostering initiatives and applications of sustainability-based measures and activities.
