Frontier Progress in Sustainable Tourism: Stakeholder, Society, and Environment Perspectives

Message from the Guest Editors

Numerous stakeholders, society, and environments may be involved in the development and implementation of sustainable tourism, which requires awareness of the effects of all stakeholders, society, and environments. This Special Issue aims to contribute to the study of sustainable tourism by presenting a wide range of papers from the field of natural and social science that clarify the effects of stakeholders, society, and environments on sustainable tourism. This Special Issue welcomes original research articles and reviews. Research areas may include (but are not limited to) the following:

- Aboriginal tourism;
- Community-based tourism;
- Ecotourism;
- Festival tourism;
- Marine tourism;
- Nature-based tourism;
- Religious tourism;
- Rural tourism;
- Smart tourism;
- Wildlife tourism.

We look forward to receiving your contributions.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

I encourage you to contribute a research or comprehensive review article for consideration for publication in Sustainability, an international open access journal which provides an advanced forum for research findings in areas related to sustainability and sustainable development. The journal publishes original research articles, reviews, conference proceedings (peer reviewed full articles) and communications. I am confident you will find the journal contributes to enhancing understanding of sustainability and fostering initiatives and applications of sustainability-based measures and activities.
