Sustainable Development Goals in Tertiary Education for Sustainability

Message from the Guest Editor

With this Special Issue, Sustainable Development Goals in Tertiary Education for Sustainability, we aim to promote the exchange of research on education experience and insights in this important field of knowledge on a global scale. We invite theoretical and research-based contributions, case studies, and critical views on the practice competence-building in higher education regarding Agenda 2030, on a local, regional, or global scale. This Issue, with a selection of papers focusing on Sustainable Development Goals in Tertiary Education for Sustainability, will strongly contribute to existing experience and knowledge. Therefore, I encourage you to submit articles and contribute to this Special Issue of Sustainability.
